NEW ORLEANS

"In the past few years, New Orleans has been expanding its range of attractions, and the number of tourists continues to grow every month. With the reopening of The Orpheum Theater, and the city hosting 130 festivals a year, New Orleans' visitors have plenty of entertainment options available to them. In addition to its many charms, New Orleans has also been the filming location of choice for several movies and TV shows, which makes this city even more appealing"

Jill DiMarco | Partner - New Orleans

UAE

"Dubai is maturing into its role as a global hub. From hotels to meetings venues and transport options, the city is showing that it maintains world-class standards in every category it caters to, from seven-star luxury to affordable three-star value."

Jestine Alfred | Destination Manager

INDONESIA

"Bali's emerging festival scene that celebrates the richness and diversity of Indonesian culture continues to bring new ways to experience Bali as it brings together lovers of food, travel and culture from across Indonesia, Southeast Asia and the globe."

Sumadiyasa | Meeting & Incentive Manager

PHILADELPHIA

"Philadelphia has been busy preparing to host two major events this year, the 2015 World Meeting of Families Congress and the 2016 Democratic National Convention, which are attracting numerous new visitors. Philadelphia has also become a top culinary and cultural destination that can offer outstanding dining options and allow you to enjoy several world renowned museums and cultural institutions all in one location."

Maria DiBenedetto
President & Partner - Philadelphia

CROATIA

"Close to major European airports, Croatia shows significant annual increases in number of business visitors. Vicinity of numerous islands and mountains, national parks and a number of UNESCO protected sites add to the success of a meeting."

Vera Drobnic | Destination Manager

THAILAND

"Bangkok continues to prove that no matter the challenges faced by this resilient destination it continues to top the charts. The city's old and new juxtaposition continues to excite with the addition of the latest culinary experience destination, the House of Sathorne opening its doors."

Bert Chamrernusit | Country Manager

LOS ANGELES

"Los Angeles continues to attract countless visitors from all over the world making this city one of our top destinations in the country. Los Angeles recently hosted several events including the MTV Video Music Awards and the ESPYS. Additionally, the Four Seasons Hotel in West Hollywood just launched their breathtaking HeliPad Yoga for private groups, which will offer one more unique activity to choose from."

Jennifer Miller | Regional President - Southwest

UK

"In August Edinburgh hosts a series of festivals and additional exciting activities to offer for incentive groups. The Edinburgh International Festival plays host to the giants of the arts with an eclectic programme of music, theatre, opera and dance. Not to forget the ever popular Military Tattoo held at the Edinburgh Castle."

Ville-Aleks Mineur | Destination Manager

THE MALDIVES

"Maldives has been promoting the destination for MICE and now is looking forward to attract more incentives with the 'Visit Maldives Year 2016' campaign. The promotion will celebrate the 50th Independence Day of Maldives. In the other hand, Maldives has been selected as the official host country for the world's largest tourism fair, ITB fair."
